Irish Whiskey Taste Trail

Jameson (Blended Whiskey)

Nose: Has a light floral fragrance with a hint of toasted Oakwood and fruity

Taste: Balance of nutty and vanilla note with a smooth and mellow finish

Note: It has the right amount of malted and un-malted Barley also our Pot-still Whiskey compliments the delicate grain whiskey beautifully

Green Spot (Pot Still Whiskey)

Nose: Fresh aromatic oils and spices with Orchard fruits and Barley on a background of toasted wood

Taste: full Spicy body with a hint of cloves and rounded off with toasted oak with lingering flavors of spices and barley

Notes: Green Spot is a non-age statement Pot Still Irish Whiskey and is comprised of Pot Still Whiskeys aged between 7-10 years. This whiskey has matured in a combination of new Bourbon and refill Bourbon Casks as well as sherry casks. Only small quantities of green Spot are bottled each year making it a rare and much sought after delight.

Midleton Very Rare

Nose: Fine Scented, spicy bouquet with a floral and herbal touch

Taste: The taste sensation is unique with almonds, dried herbs fruit and honey

Note: The very first Midleton Very Rare 1984 was created by Master Distiller Barry Crocket from some of the finest Whiskeys originally laid down by his father Master Distiller Max Crocket, Over 25 years later Barry his son and successor continues the noble task of hand picking more than 400 precious casks of rare whiskeys from which to create this truly magnificent and much celebrated Whiskey. It is matured in seasoned Bourbon Barrels; each new vintage is graced with fulsome flavors

Powers Irish Coffee Powers Irish Whiskey is the original whiskey used in the first Irish coffee recipe which was created at the Foynes airbase in Co. Limerick. The story goes that Powers Irish Coffee was created to appease a group of tired and cranky American tourists who had set off from the airport 10 hours earlier to make the 19hour trip to New York, After hours battling a storm, the decision was taken to turn back. The Head Chef at Foynes Joseph Sheridan decided they would need something to warm them and he decided to brew some dark rich coffee, a mix of Powers Irish Whiskey and sugar to taste, before topping off each cup with freshly whipped cream, As the passengers sipped their drinks, one American tourist quipped, Hey Buddy “is this a Brazilian Coffee” to which Sheridan replied that is was an “Irish Coffee

Cigars

Montecristo No. 5

€22

The Montecristo No.5 is among the smallest of the Montecristo family. The No.5 has a medium body and vegetal, spicy flavours that make it appealing to any smoker.

Ramon Allones Specially Selected

€32

The specially selected is the Robusto sized cigar of the Allones brand, this cigar is strong and bold, with rich flavours and a creamy finish. Complex in the palate, with honey, nuts, earth and sour notes, this cigar should be enjoyed after a good meal.

Montecristo Petit Edmundo

€32

One of Montecristo's most popular cigars since its release in 2006. The Edmundo is exceptionally well- made even by Cuban standards delivering a rich creamy and complex flavor profile with notes of milk chocolate, cappuccino, gingerbread, leather, spices and cedar accompanied by a deep earthiness.

Romeo & Julieta Churchill

€42

A modern day classic. The Romeo Y Julieta Churchill sets the standard for heavy gauged, medium bodied smokes across the board. Delightfully toasty despite its thickness, with a subtle dry tannin and mineral to begin with, the cigars intensely leathery note remains present throughout.
